

Units of Study for Teaching Reading

Reading Workshop — A framework for quality reading and literacy instruction at KES

Lucy Calkin's Reading Workshop series offers a grade-by-grade curricula in reading designed to meet ambitious 21st century global standards. The program draws on learning that is gleaned from decades of research, curriculum development, and working shoulder-to-shoulder with students, teachers, and school leaders. The series includes state-of-the-art tools and methods for teaching reading and stems from The Reading and Writing Project's learning progressions in reading for literature and informational texts.

Reading Workshop includes direct instruction of skills in various formats including whole class instruction, small group work, and individual conferencing. Students are asked to read a variety of text at their independent reading level and are exposed to grade level text through read aloud and content area work.

Watch this video, Units of Study, The Reading Workshop Today, to hear from Literacy Expert Lucy Calkins on the power of quality reading instruction.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-d7XQNmbWH4>

For more information on the Reading and Writing Project visit:

<http://readingandwritingproject.org/about>